The call to the men of the three companies in which the Amalgamated association is strongest is expected to be generally and promptly responded to. The movement will, it is expected, radically suspend operations of the Federal Steel company and cut off half of the production of the National Steel and National Tube companies and throw more than 40,000 men idle. In the most extensive plant of the National Tube company at McKeesport the organization is new and the effect of the strike order is uncertain. The works employ more than 8,000 men.

The attitude of the men of the United States Steel corporation, so far not affected by the strike, has been carefully canvassed since the futile efforts to arrive at terms of peace in New York last Saturday. Most of the nine vice presidents of the different districts have been among their men and their reports have reached headquarters. In a general way the tone of these general reports indicates that the men will support the stand of their officers. An aggressive move upon the Carnegie mills is intended.

President Shaffer said tonight:

"We want no one to come out with us unwillingly. If our people are not in full sympathy with our fight we would rather they remain at work. They will not be asked to decide hastily. They will have until Saturday night of this week to think it over. When they finally do decide they will come out prepared for the battle. There will be no faltering, no indecision, no ignorance in action, but a unity of purpose and determination to stand for their rights."

After issuing the official call for next Saturday night President Shafer said:

"At noon today I called out all the men employed in the Newcastle mills of the National Steel company. They will stop work at 12 o'clock tonight. My purpose in doing this was that I learned that the trust has been piling up union made bars in the old housings for the purpose of supplying the non union mills when the plants shall be shut down. It was a clever trick but it did not work. The trust will need what bars they have stored now badly enough before they are through with this strike. After sending this telegram to Newcastle I received a reply which read as follows:

"'Mill will close, men are all firm.'

"This will bring about 1,500 men out in this plant of the National Steel company in one town. We have to be on the watch for just such moves by the trust as this was. We know what is going on just as well as they do, and are fully prepared to meet every move they make."

Discussing the feature of the strike that would bear directly upon the prosperity of the country, President Shaffer said:

"The closing of all these mills will be felt by all classes. It will stop production and this will stop commerce. The effect will be bad and no one realizes it more than I do. I realized all the time and tried to avoid by every means in my power the carrying out of this programme, but it was of no use. Right must triumph, however. It will triumph in spite of the trust saying that the union men cannot exist in their mills.

"In this call for the men to come out we tried to avoid all meaningless words, all bombastic utterances and sensational sentences. It is too serious a matter for stage play. The Amalgamated men fully realize the task that is before them and have been prepared for it. They are, I believe, ready to suffer long for what they firmly believe to be their rights. They will suffer hunger, poverty, and privation of all kinds before giving in. The trust can never crush such men as our people. They may start some of our mills, but they cannot start many of them."

Reports were received from nearby towns tonight as follows:

Wellsville, Ohio.—The same number of mills are working and the temper of the men, now, and the company officers has been in no wise altered. The arrest of H. B. Henderson, president of the Wellsville local lodge of potters on the charge of riot, has deeply incensed all the operative potters in the Ohio valley. Tomorrow at noon a kitchen will be established in the mill yard and the non-union men will be furnished their meals within the mill yard instead of having them passed through the fence as heretofore. Manager Brookman absolutely refused to admit a news writer to his office and will not even tell the number of mills now working.

Bellaire, Ohio.—From present indications at the Bellaire works of the National Steel company the men will not come out on the call of President Shafer. An organized has been here, but could not get enough men to staff a lodge as there are not many men in this mill that the Amalgamated association would allow to become members, but it is thought here that if all other trades come out this mill will close down.

Monessen, Pa.—The tin mill is running and the strikers have so far failed in their efforts to get the non-union men out.

Youngstown, Ohio.—The general strike order will have no effect in Youngstown or the Mahoning valley. On July 1, when the old scale expired, all the mills of the U. S. Steel corporation were closed down and not a wheel has turned since. In Youngstown the Steel Hoop company owns two mills which employ 2,500 men. In Struthers the Sheet Steel company operates a five mill plant employing the same number of men. In Niles also the Tin Plate company operates a plant of 600 men, and in Warren the Steel Hoop company's mills are idle and 500 men are out. They are all organized and have nearly all secured jobs in independent mills and outside works. It is only more expected in the valley at once early date is the strike of the blast furnace bureau.

NEWS NOTES FROM DENVER

Anderson Affidavits---Suicide of George Gibb---Extra Session Is Possible.

Denver Bureau Colorado Springs Gazette.

It begins to appear as though public opinion will be recognized and a complete investigation made of the alleged attempts to bribe the Anderson jury. The affidavits of the jurors charging attempts at bribery were filed in the West Side criminal court this morning. The affidavits were accompanied by a petition from W. W. Anderson for a change of venue from Judge Mullins' court. Among other things the petition recites that the defendant has become convinced that the presiding judge, John T. Mullins, is so prejudiced against the defendant that he cannot give to the defendant a fair and impartial trial, and is moved to these statements through no ill feeling or lack of respect to the court, but when the honorable judge sustained every objection that was made against the defendant's rights and overruled every objection that was made in his favor with one exception and then at the close of the trial declined to give any instructions which the defendant had prepared and offered for the enlightenment of the jury, and in other ways manifested a strong personal prejudice against the rights of the defendant, the defendant says and makes his oath that he is not satisfied that his case will or receive fair or impartial hearing before the said honorable judge.

The affidavits of the jurors which were filed today contain the same charges as outlined in Monday's Gazette. Milton Smith appeared in court this morning as the attorney for Tammen and Bonfils. He has as yet not filed any affidavits for his clients of the case, but will have a number ready for filing tomorrow morning. Judge Mullins did not return today as was expected, but will return some time during the night. District Attorney Lindsley may be all in the court to appoint a special prosecutor to conduct the prosecution. Attorney Taylor, who is representing Mr. Anderson, has stated that he intends to have the parties connected with the affair arrested tomorrow. Fire Warden Sadler, who was suspended because of his alleged connection and who mysteriously disappeared during the past week has not yet been located. His wife says she does not know where he is but thinks he has gone to New York. She is in hopes he will return and straighten the matter out. She does not blame the fire and police board for suspending her husband during the investigation, but she feels that Judge Thomas and Bailiff Schroeder should also be suspended. Just how the investigation will be conducted with both the judges now sitting, the judges have their first sitting.

George E. Gibb, chief clerk for the general manager of the C. F. & I. Co., shot himself in the offices of the company in the Boston building this morning. Death was instantaneous. Despondency caused from continual illness is supposed to be the cause of the act. Mr. Gibb has been with the company for 15 years and was one of its most trusted employes. He was seen to enter his office at 7:30 this morning and in a few moments a pistol report was heard. Investigation showed that he had secured a revolver from the desk of General Superintendent Keppler and after placing the muzzle of the gun in his mouth, pulled the trigger. The force of the bullet scattered parts of his brain all over the ceiling. He was 40 years old and leaves a wife but no children.

Governor Orman has not as yet decided what he will do in regard to the calling of an extra session of the legislature for the passing or re-passing the revenue bill. In talking of the matter with your correspondent today he said: "The legislature will probably not be called together until after the supreme court has passed upon the bill, but it may be called before that time. There seems little doubt but that it will have to be called together. I have received a large number of letters from members urging an extra session as the best way out of the difficulty." It is entirely likely that if the call is made it will include some other matters that need to be disposed of besides the revenue bill. The appeal from Judge Dixon's decision is being prepared as rapidly as possible and will be filed with the supreme court at the earliest possible moment. The regular sitting of the supreme court convenes the second Tuesday in September, but Chief Justice Campbell is in Europe and may not return in time for the court to meet at that time. The other judges will not consider the measure until his return, and if the judge's absence would delay an opinion upon the matter too long in all probability, the extra session will be called.

An ore car became detached from a string of D. and R. G. cars near Malta yesterday afternoon and ran down the main track to Gordon, where it collided with passenger train No. 3. The force of the collision did about $3,000 worth of damage to the engine, baggage car and slightly injured those who were in the cab.

The assessors of the state met in the house of representatives hall this morning and organized under the provisions of the new revenue law. Considerable discussion was indulged in as to whether they should proceed to organize and transact their business under the new law while the decision as to its validity was pending before the supreme court. They finally decided to go ahead and act according to the law until it was declared unconstitutional. When this decision was reached they immediately began to prepare to carry out its provisions. George N. Lysight of Teller county, was elected chairman. A. B. Gray of Arapahoe county is secretary by virtue of his position as secretary of the state board of equalization. They then went into executive session and elected the following 17 men to constitute the state board of assessors to assess corporate property: First class, S. H. Alexander, Arapahoe; second class, M. J. Layden, El Paso; George N. Lysight, Teller; third class, J. R. Webber, Boulder; A. J. Hogan, Pitkin; T. H. Stevenson, Weld; fourth class, Fred Bush, Crafted; H. G. Taylor, Douglas; A. M. Thomas, Gunnison; J. C. Price, La Plata; T. P. Linn, Park; fifth class, W. S. Whinnery, Hinsdale; L. J. Ness, Kit Carson. A majority of the board of 13 are Democrats. According to Attorney General Post the new law provides that the board shall hold its first meeting on the second Tuesday in August.

The county attorneys of the various counties are also holding a meeting. They are here for the purpose of advising the assessors on any legal questions that may arise. They spent a greater portion of the day in discussing a motion to address a letter to Governor Orman asking for an extra session. The motion did not prevail.

Assistant Attorney General Roberts today rendered an opinion in which he held that where a paroled convict at the state reformatory was arrested the authorities arresting him could try him on the new charge and were not compelled to send him back to the reformatory to complete his first sentence as had been the custom heretofore.

At noon today Wheeler Kelsey, aged 16 years, accidentally shot and killed Charlie Rafferty, aged 14 years, at Fort Lupton. Kelsey had witnessed an Indian show and was showing his companions a little trick which was performed in the show when the gun was discharged. The bullet struck Rafferty and passed through his head, killing him instantly.

GOLDFIELD

Special to the Gazette.

Goldfield, Aug. 6.—The F. & C. C. depot in this city was entered by burglars about 7 o'clock last night and $10 in currency was taken from the safe. Depot Agent Ihrnstine was at the postoffice for a few minutes and upon his return found that a window to the waiting room had been pried open and that the books in the ticket office were strewn over the floor. The burglars were unable to gain access to the drawer in which the cash was kept. The detectives who are working on the case believe the burglary to have been committed by experts as it was done in a very neat and quick manner.

The funeral services over the remains of William Hicks, who was killed in the Portland mine on Friday night, took place from his late residence here this morning at 10 o'clock. The funeral was largely attended by Hicks' many friends. The casket in which the remains were laid to rest was richly draped in silk and embellished with silver mounted handles, and top plates bearing the inscription, "At Rest," and the emblem of the K. of P. lodge. There were many beautiful floral offerings.

The marriage of Miss Ella Isabel Avard to Mr. Clinton Beatty Ault will be solemnized on August 7 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Walborn, in Washington, Kansas. Miss Avard has been teaching school here for the past two years, while Mr. Ault has been the local postmaster for over a year. They will make their home at this place.

CATES PROVED TO BE EASY

Now Pitcher Failed to Foil the Saints—Ream Ruled Off on Account of Rain.

Special to the Gazette.

St. Joseph, Aug. 6.—The locals took the first game of the series here today by heavy hitting. Cates was easy for St. Joseph, who pounded him for nine singles, four doubles and one three-bagger. He also hit four men by pitched balls. Maupin was in good form and held the visitors down to eight hits. Ream was put out of the game for throwing a bucket of water at Doolin, who was holding a foul.

Flood knocked a high fly to Bandelin, which the left fielder misjudged, and it went for two bases. Hall sacrificed and Flood went to third, scoring on the single of Hulswitt's to left field. In the third half Hall knocked a two-bagger in the left garden and Flood another to third. Hulswitt was hit by a pitched ball and Schrall was struck out. McKibben hit to Hernon and he dropped the fly. Flood scoring. Hemphill flew out to Moneyman in the fourth inning. Hernon walked, Shay hit safe to right field and Hernon went to third. Holland flew out to Moneyman and Hernon stole home while an effort was being made to rush Shay down between the initial sack and second base. Tannehill hit safe and Ream knocked a foul which went near the bench occupied by the visitors. Doolin went after it and when the ball was almost in his hands a bucket of water was thrown in his face by one of the visiting players and he dropped the ball. Bright called him out on the interference. Davis was given his base on balls, Honeyman sacrificed, advancing Davis to second. Maupin hit to Ream, who retired him at first. Flood was hit by a pitched ball and stole second. Hall hit safe to right field and Davis and Flood scored. In the fifth, Donahue and Cates scored on an error of Hall. MRS. OGLE HAD BAD TIME WITH GASOLINE

Shortly after noon yesterday Mrs. A. Ogle had a narrow escape from death at her home, 117 East Las Animas street. Mrs. Ogle was seriously burned by an explosion of gasoline, and it was only by the timely efforts of her husband that her life was saved. She had been cleaning the furniture of one of the rooms with gasoline and decided that by burning sulphur she might complete the work already begun. No sooner had she struck a match than a violent explosion occurred and flames burst forth in the room. An alarm was sent in to the fire department and the flame was quickly extinguished, the damage being only about $20. Though Mrs. Ogle was seriously burned about the arms and face, her injuries are not considered dangerous.

CUMMINS IN CONTROL

Cedar Rapids, Ia., August 6. The combination against Cummins was broken tonight by a large number of the Herriott delegates, who abandoned their man and went over to the Des Moines candidate. They will bring to Cummins an increase of 58 votes on the first ballot and 87 on the second. The defection of Herriott's men is considered to practically settle the nomination in favor of Cummins. His opponents conceded to him early in the evening 250 votes on the first ballot, while he claimed 781. The break tonight, even by the admission of his opponents, gives him 828 on the second ballot, while according to his own estimate he will have at least 847 on the first ballot and a total of 869 on the second, while but 821 votes are necessary to a choice.

Chairman McMillan of the steering committee, said tonight that he still felt confident of the outcome. He claimed that the tactics pursued by the Curtis faction in forcing the break from Herriott would prove a boomerang that would cost Cummins more than he had gained.

"We shall certainly control the organization of the convention," he said, "there is no longer any doubt of that, and the report of the committee on credentials will be sustained by the convention. After we have shown that we are in control of the convention we can agree upon who shall be nominated."

ARCADES WANT GAME WITH THE B. P. O. E.

Probably the Arcades will play the Elks Saturday instead of one of the out of town teams as Sunday, as was previously proposed.

Manager Myles is working hard to arrange a game with the Elks.

It is generally conceded that the Arcades have one of the best, if not the best amateur team in the state. They have won victory after victory and should they play the Elks the latter will have to play some pretty swift ball.

If they play Saturday the game will be on Washburn field.

TROLLEY JUMPS RAILS—Another street car was thrown off the tracks early yesterday afternoon near Dick's restaurant. The trailer did not take the switch. No one was injured and no damage was done. In a few minutes the car was again placed on the rails.

NURSERY MANAGERS. There will be a meeting of the board of managers of the Colorado Springs Day nursery this morning at 10 o'clock.

BANQUET NOTICE—Henry Russell Wray, chairman of the Quarto-centennial Press committee, announces that all those who have not paid for their tickets to the editors' banquet last Friday, must do so today.

BROADMOOR HOTEL—Mr. Chas. Elmendorf, who is associated with Mr. Otto Kappler in the management of the Broadmoor hotel and casino, made the interesting announcement that the hotel will remain open the whole year. Messrs. Kappler and Elmendorf are caterers of the first water and their remarkable ability in catering to the wants of persons with fastidious tastes is therefore not to be wondered at.

BLANCHE BATES AS "CIGARETTE."

After an three-year of some season's Charles Frohman sends direct from New York, a production of no small magnitude and mooted merit in Paul M. Potter's spectacular melodrama "Under Two Flags," adapted from Ouida's romantic novel of the same name, the presentation of which is announced at the Opera house for next Saturday evening under arrangement with David Belasco.

The piece was first produced by Mr. Frohman at the Garden Theater, New York, early last winter, and continued there throughout the spring until recently, when it became necessary to terminate its run and prepare for the transportation to the Pacific coast of its multitudinous and weighty stage effects together with its ensemble of nearly 100 players and mechanics, saying nothing of the thoroughbred horses introduced in the action.

The original cast returns hither from the Pacific undisturbed, with Miss Blanche Bates at its head, in her popular creation of "Cigarette the Vivandiere," a role that report says she has made her own, and is but one of the many trophies she has acquired within the brief time she has been away from this section, to which she belongs by birth.

Shortly after the novel was published, which was in 1858, the role of "Cigarette" was played by Lotta, as a comedy creation, but in the present version all the incidents are made subordinate to the main theme, the unrequited love of the heroine. The drama therefore presents a story of strictly dramatic interest.

BIG ROBBERY OF BULLION

Bold and Ingenious Thieves Secured Over Quarter of a Million.

FROM CALIFORNIA SMELTER

Dug a Tunnel, Drilled Under a Vault and Escaped With 1,200 Pounds of Refined Gold.

San Francisco, Aug. 6.—The Selby Smelting and Lead company was robbed of $250,000 worth of gold bullion. The theft occurred some time last night and was not discovered until morning. The thieves tunneled from outside the building under the vault at the Selby works, which are located on the bay shore about 30 miles from San Francisco. They got away with nearly 1,200 pounds of fine gold worth $20 an ounce without leaving a trace of their identity behind. The robbery is the most successful and remarkable ever accomplished on the Pacific coast and was evidently the work of skilled mechanics. The whole affair was most skillfully planned and as skillfully executed. It is supposed that when the robbers secured their loot they loaded it into a boat that was waiting and disappeared in the fog that had come over San Francisco bay. In their haste to get away they left two gold bars worth nearly $10,000 lying on the bank at the water's edge.

The police at all the bay cities were immediately notified of the crime but all they could discover were a few of the tools that the robbers had used.

The Selby Smelting and Lead company is the largest concern of its kind on the Pacific coast. Ores are sent from all over the western country to be smelted and refined and the gold is then turned over to the mint. A steamer makes special trips between the smelter and San Francisco carrying the ores one way and bringing back the refined gold. This morning, when the work men entered the vault to prepare the gold for loading on the steamer the robbery was discovered. The thieves had taken the precaution of fastening the door of the vault from the inside so that it would be difficult to open from the outside in case they were interrupted in their work.

Probably preparatory engineering extending over several weeks was done before the robbery could be accomplished. Close to the wall of the building in which the vault is located a shaft was sunk below the foundation. Then a tunnel was run to the vault and holes were bored in the iron floor until an aperture sufficiently large to admit a man was made. It was then easy work to pass down the treasure into the tunnel and load it into a boat. The robbers even took the precaution to sprinkle red pepper in the tunnel in order to make things as uncomfortable as possible for any one who might attempt to pursue them.

There were four fine gold bricks in the vault which the robbers looted. Each was ten inches long, five inches wide and four inches in height. They were all stamped with number, weight and fineness and ran thus:

No. 1236 containing 1160.37 ounces; No. 1237, containing 1127.43 ounces; No. 1238, containing 1123.22 ounces, and No. 1239 containing 1073.79 ounces.

All these bricks were 998 fine and worth $20.60 per ounce.

In addition to this there was stolen from the bullion vault crude gold in all shapes and sizes and some of it in bars of different lengths.

"It is the boldest robbery in the history of the state," said Chief of Detectives Seymour this afternoon, "and from all the information that can be obtained at this time there is absolutely no clew to the robbers. In fact, we do not know whether the crime was committed by one man or five. The probabilities are, however, that more than one man was concerned in it.

"We have taken all precautions to capture the robbers. Telegrams have been sent to every sheriff in the central part of the state ordering him to search for the missing gold; to overhaul every boat and steamer within his jurisdiction; to search every railroad train and stage coach passing through his county and to examine all parties taking passage at the different railroad stations throughout the state. We can do no more than this and I think, that with the precautions we have taken no stranger can leave the state uninspected. Surely, if any attempt is made to ship the bullion by any of the ordinary modes of conveyance we will discover it. On the whole, I believe the chances are good for capturing the robbers."

SKILLFUL WORK ON THE PART OF THE ROBBERS

Vallejo, Calif., Aug. 6.—An official of the Selby Smelting works made the following statement to a representative of the Associated Press regarding the robbery:

"The robbers must have succeeded in entering the vault some time between the hours of midnight and 5 o'clock this morning. They entered the vault through a hole about the size of a manhole in a boiler and the indications point to the fact that the robbers have been working on the scheme for some time. Over 150 holes were bored in the bottom of the vault and the workmanship indicates that mechanics of more than usual ability superintended the job. The holes were bored to within a half's breadth of the surface and when the proper time came the plate was forced up, thus giving the robbers access to the vault. The plotters first excavated a hol alongside of the building directly in line with the vault.

"The work of excavating must have taken some time and at the end of each night's work—for the work must have been done at night—a covering of jaths, rubber sheeting and sacks was made, the whole being covered over with a layer of dirt, thus hiding any signs of what was going on. What became of the excavated dirt we have been unable to find out. It must have been removed in sacks. The covering we have ascertained was not strong enough to hold the weight of a man, but the excavation was made so close to the building that the men never walked over it. We are satisfied that the plotters were aided by some thoroughly familiar with the system employed at the works and one fully informed as to the construction of the vault.

"Last night one of the watchmen employed about the premises heard noises inside the vault and informed his fellows that the devil or ghosts were inside the vault. They laughed at him and made no investigation and thus the robbers were left unmolested at their work.

"The weight of the gold carried out of the vault aggregates 1,200 pounds and it must have taken several trips for one man and several men must have been employed in carrying the metal to the boat. We are assured a boat was in waiting for them.

"Inside the vault were several bricks containing $110,000 but this was not touched. It may have been that the men became alarmed. That they were alarmed is also indicated by the fact that two bars of gold of great value were left on the beach in their haste to embark.

"It is impossible for us to say at this time what direction the men took. If they used a steam launch to leave the scene of the robbery they could have gone in any direction but if they escaped in a row boat they would doubtless have taken the direction in which the tide was running.

"Several broken drills and an oil can such as is used by cyclists have been found in the hole.

"Every possible clew is being followed but I am unable to say that we have been not at all successful thus far but we hope to later make the announcement that the robbers have been apprehended. I believe that they secured about $250,000."

GOVERNOR GAGE MAY ARRANGE A CONFERENCE

San Francisco, Aug. 6.—The only development of importance in the labor situation today, so far as the extension of strikes is concerned, was the walkout of more than 400 union box makers, who had been employed at the various box factories of the city. The men claim that they were so often urged to sign an agreement which meant their resignation from the union that they decided to no longer brook the menacing attitude of their employers and to join the forces of the idle.

Mayor Phelan declares that as far as he is concerned peace negotiations are at an end, he having done all that he could to bring about a conference.

Tomorrow morning the sand teamsters, some 500 in number, will refuse to go to work, having been ordered out on strike. This will tend to cripple the building industry of the city, as materials cannot then be hauled.

The Building Trades council claims that there are only 150 idle union painters this afternoon and that in a short time the Master Painters' association will be brought to terms.

The Municipal league officials are hopeful that a conference may yet be arranged and it has been suggested that Governor Gage be urged to assume the role of mediator.

There were the usual daily assaults on non-union workmen. Two cases very near ending seriously. Samuel Cole, a striking teamster, was shot in the breast and badly injured by Henry Davis, who drew a revolver and shot him. J. Watt, a non-union teamster when going to work, was met by a union man who tried to dissuade him. On Watt's refusal the union man struck him in the neck with a rock. Watts drew a pistol and shot his assailant. Watts was watching the man run when two shots were fired by some one in the crowd on the other side of the street at Watts. The bullets lodged in a door just above Watt's head.

CRIPPLE CREEK NEWS NOTES

Preparations for a Reception to Roosevelt — The District Crowded With Tourists.

Cripple Creek Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Cripple Creek, August 6. The city council held an important session tonight and took steps toward the proper reception of Vice President Theodore Roosevelt, who will be in the city for a few hours Thursday afternoon. Alderman Funk presented a resolution calling upon Mayor Crane to appoint a committee of ten to prepare for a rousing reception to be given the distinguished visitor. The resolution was unanimously adopted. It is probable that the reception will be held at the National hotel.

Upon the recommendation of the finance committee the Homo Mining company was given ten days in which to file a $10,000 bond with the city clerk. If at the end of ten days the bond is not filed the company's franchise will be annulled. The old bond of the company was lost and the city in order to protect itself from damage suits took action tonight.

A resolution instructing the Michigan Pipe Line company to extend its water mains on several of the streets was adopted.

Cripple Creek was well crowded with tourists and visitors all day long. Special trains over the Short Line brought in about 1,000 people. A great many of them were special excursionists. The two trains of nine and six carloads each were heavily crowded, but the accommodations were excellent. Most of the tourists returned to Colorado Springs and Manitou this afternoon after spending the day inspecting the camp in a tour over the electric and steam suburban roads.

Chas. W. Wells, former auditor and member of the school board of district No. 1, who was made the chief object of attack by the grand jury, which has been at work for the past several weeks, became cleared of most of his troubles in the district court today. Judge W. P. Breda called the cases at 10 o'clock and three out of the five indictments against Wells were dismissed on account of the fact that the alleged felony was committed over 18 months ago, specifically on October 15, 1899, and under the state laws the cases could not be prosecuted. Court adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon, when the remaining two informations against Mr. Wells' wife, note plossed by Special Prosecuting Attorney C. C. Butler and District Attorney Henry Trowbridge, Judge T. O. Richmond and S. B. Crump defended Wells.

The remaining indictments found by the grand jury were set for August 8.

A new information were filed against Charles W. Wells this afternoon to which M. E. Hopkins, of Colorado Springs, filed affidavit. The charge is that Mr. Wells as auditor of the school board certified to a bill of the Cripple Creek District Machine company in consideration of $25. Hopkins was formerly employed by the machine company. The bill was in connection with work done on the Victor high school building.

In the adverse suit of Sharpe vs. Sullivan the district court jury brought in a verdict for the plaintiff today. The suit is an adverse in which the plaintiff asks for the recovery of the Quaklu Ann lode in conflict with the Reg Neal.

The county commissioners today accepted the plans of Architect Troutman for the building of the new county hospital to be erected at Broadway and B street. According to the terms the building should cost in the neighborhood of $13,000, and bids on the contract will be received in a few days.

In the county recorder's office today a deed was filed by Victor G. Hills conveying to M. Adeline Hills a half interest to the Klondyke lode claim on Bull hill for $200.

Mrs. Bertha Swetman today gave a warranty deed for lots 5 and 7 of block 2 in McKinnie's addition to Victor to Christine Rumohr for $2,000.

NEWS NOTES FROM VICTOR

A Warning Issued by Miners Union to Those Who Are Not Members.

Victor Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Victor, Aug. 6.—The Cripple Creek executive board of the Western Federation of Miners, through its president, John Curry, today gave out the following notice:

"Notice to All Whom These Presents Apply:

"Greeting—At this time it would seem to the candid thinking and unbiased mind that it would be unnecessary to call to the attention of the men working in and around the mines, mills and power plants of the Cripple Creek district the crying need of more thorough and complete organization. Yet, alas, such is the fact. On one hand we see capital organizing into vast trusts and these trusts fast coming under one central head getting ready for the day not far distant when they shall crush us under their merciless heels. And what is labor doing to counteract the effects of these vast combinations? Alas, labor appears to be asleep and pretends not to be aware of the dangers which threaten our wage scale and hours and the very life of our organization.

"Hence this appeal and warning. The miners unions of the Cripple Creek district have been organized for several years and yet there are men in our midst so blind to their own interests as to refuse to join a union. To these we address this circular and inform them that the crying need of the hour is organization and that if they will not see we propose to make the proof plain to them.

"Hence take notice, on and after Sept. 15, 1901, any one working in or around the mines, mills or power plants of the Cripple Creek district who cannot show a card of membership in good standing in some local union of the Western Federation of Miners will be considered a scab, an enemy to himself, to us and the community at large and will be treated as such.

"By Order of the C. C. Executive Board of the Western Federation of Miners.

"By John Curry, President.
C. C. Rorke, Secretary and Treasurer."

This notice is considered by the people of the district to be more of an appeal than a threat. It is not thought that anything serious will result, as similar notices have been often issued in the history of organized labor in the camp.

Every precaution is being taken to prevent the cribbing of the Portland mine dump from giving way, and tonight those who during the day have been placing braces in position and attending to the work got consider the cribbing practically out of danger. It will be remembered that about two months ago six members of the Smith family, including the father and mother, were killed by the giving way of the Granite mine cribbing. This mine adjoins the Potland and since that time the people residing in this section have been careful to keep a safe distance from any mine cribbing. The lessees working the Monument, in the shadow of the Portland dump, have removed their ore sorters to a place of safety. With the completion of the Portland mill on the Short Line near Colorado City a large portion of the Portland dump will be removed and its gold values extracted. This will do away with all danger.

Mike Kelly, alias Riley, was arrested last night charged with larceny. He is believed to be the man who entered Tom Murphy's room in the Hunt block, and stole about $20.

In the case of J. A. Kennedy vs. Christopher Grant in Justice Corbin's court a verdict for defendant was given. It amounted to $6. The plaintiff sued for $100, the value of a horse which Grant hired to take a drive to Gillette. He had got part of the distance when the horse went lame and became unfit for the work. The defendant was given the amount of the buggy hire in rebate.

D. C. King, today swore out a warrant in Justice Corbin's court against J. D. McAdams, charging him with assault with a deadly weapon on Aug. 5. The case has been set for 3 o'clock tomorrow.

The coroner's jury investigating the death of Thomas W. Conway, who was killed by an electric current at Anna Lynn on Sunday night, today brought in a verdict exonerating everybody from blame.

A YOUNG LADY'S LIFE SAVED

At Panama, Colombia, by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. Charles H. Utter, a prominent physician of Panama, Colombia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had as a patient a young lady 16 years of age, who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as a last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected. Within eight hours she was feeling much better; inside of three days she was upon her feet and at the end of one week was entirely well." For sale by all druggists.

THE NEWS OF COLORADO CITY

Constitutionality of a Sunday Shave

The ordinance which the barbers presented to the city council Monday night, prohibiting the opening of barber shops on Sunday, is causing much discussion in the city. It seems that some two months ago a number of barbers came and began to do a Sunday business. This started much comment. Among the barber fraternity of the city and plans were made to stop all Sunday opening.

The barbers do not seem to object to the amount of business which those two shops may take away from them, but rather to the fact that the opening of two shops will encourage others to do the same and in the end every barber will be obliged to open.

At the meeting of the council there seemed to be no objection to passing the proposed ordinance and it was generally thought that at the next meeting this would be done.

After thinking the matter over Mayor Faulkner about came to the conclusion that such an act would be unconstitutional and therefore he could not vote for it. The six members of the council favor the ordinance but as one of them must be absent from the next meeting the matter is still far from settled. Section 1 of the proposed ordinance provides that no person or persons shall keep open a barber shop, or shall engage in barbering in any public or private place, in the limits of Colorado City at any time on Sunday. Section 2 provides that a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $50 for any violation of the ordinance.

New Club Meets Again Tomorrow

The new Republican club will meet Thursday evening, instead of on Wednesday evening, as the hall could not be secured on the latter evening.

Much interest is manifested as to the outcome of the meeting. It has been thought that the two Republican clubs would finally come to an understanding and amalgamate their interests, but there seems to be a growing opposition in the ranks of the new club against any such movement.

A man who stands high in the ranks of the club said: "I am not in favor of any such scheme. In the first place we really have the only Republican club in the city. The other one was not legally organized and so there is no such club in existence. Again, that club has a very small membership and there is no good reason why the name should be made to change for the few. The last meeting before this club was organized was packed with Democrats, Populists, fusionists and any old thing that could be found. Such business must be stopped, but if this can be done by any other honorable means than the one we have started, I am ready to do it."

After this gang gets to work the streets of Colorado City ought to shine.

RAISING TRACKS—Workmen are engaged in raising the tracks east of Sixth street. They have been settling in this spot for some time. Only one new tie is being put in for each several feet as the company intends to put in entirely new tracks a little later. The new rails, which are already in the Springs are about twice the weight of those in use at present.

Illuminated Run a Beautiful Sight

"Here they come! here they come!" was shouted from thousands of throats last night as the fire department came galloping at a break-neck speed down Cascade avenue.

Clang! Clash! Bang! Hooray! Bully for 'em! A flash of lights, the quick thud of galloping horses, the shrill clang of alarm bells, and the run was over—all but the shouting, and how the people did turn themselves loose to cheer the fire laddies. It was a pretty run and a speedy one. The wagons were all gorgeously lit up with rose-colored torches. Lights were waved all around the wagons. The horses snorted and tore along as if to make the run of a lifetime. It was all as fantastic, unreal and exciting as a fascinating dream.

The run had been postponed twice on account of the weather, but the third time was the charm. The night was clear and the air just bracing enough to give vim to the sport. The entire affair went off with a life and zest that made it mightily worth seeing, and the crowds of people who lined Cascade avenue and sat on the grand stand were not a whit disappointed at the affair.

The run was made from Boulder to Cucharas. There were three wagons, the hook and ladder truck, police patrol and the new engine in the race. The patrol made the fastest time, due to the fact that the horses had the lightest load to haul.

Shortly after the illuminated run last night the fire department was called to the residence of W. D. Vaughn, 220 North El Paso street, to extinguish a small blaze. Mrs. Vaughn had been down town witnessing the exhibition by the department and had just returned home when the fire took place. As she was lighting a lamp an explosion occurred, setting fire to the table cover and the carpet. An alarm was turned in at box 213, and the north end and central departments promptly responded, but the fire had been extinguished by the time they arrived. The damage was but slight and will not exceed $10.

Kiefler Reception Largely Attended

Rev. A. R. Kiefler, D. D., formerly pastor of Grace church during the years from 1888 to 1892, was again welcomed by his many friends here who tendered him a most enjoyable reception last night at the residence of Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin Brewster. During the reception hours, the Brewster home was crowded with parishioners and friends of both Rev. Mr. Kiefler and Rev. Mr. Brewster.

Rev. Mr. Kiefler is now rector of the Episcopal church at Bradford, Pa., where a flourishing Episcopal diocese has been prospering during the years of Rev. Mr. Kiefler's work there. For the decade while Rev. Mr. Kiefler was in Colorado Springs, he was chaplain of the local G. A. R. corps, among whom Rev. Mr. Kiefler has hosts of friends.

Receiving with Dr. and Mrs. Kiefler and Rev. and Mrs. Brewster, were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Humphrey, Mrs. William Rainey, Mrs. Walter Gaskill, Mrs. Hermans, Mrs. Hemis, Mrs. A. H. Whalte, Mrs. H. A. Waggoner, Mrs. T. G. Horn, Miss Leila Eyre, Miss Anna Eyre and Miss Grace Loper. An enjoyable musical program was rendered during the evening. Participating in this were Mrs. Philip B. Stewart, Mrs. A. H. Whalte, who sang solos, Miss Beulah Whalte and Miss Pierson played violin selections, with Mr. John Akers at the piano. Mr. Marvin Gaylord sang two solos. Friends of Rev. and Mrs. Brewster assisted them in dispensing hospitality to the guests. Mrs. H. A. Waggoner, Mrs. T. G. Horn, Mrs. Bryant, Mrs. Philip B. Stewart and Miss E. H. Eyre served the refreshments.

Who Is Secretary of Alert Company

J. W. D. Stovell says he is secretary of the Alert Gold Mining company and the Alert Gold Mining company says he is not. The dispute is now before the county court for settlement.

The story of the trouble and the litigation which has just been begun follows: Mr. Stovell was secretary of the company until recently when an alleged meeting of the directors was held and a new secretary was elected. Mr. Stovell says the election was irregular and refused to turn the company's books over to the new officer. The dispute was taken into the county court by the directors and the books were replevined by the sheriff. Mr. Stovell entered a re-delivery bond and the books were returned to him. Yesterday morning the plaintiff's petition for the appointment of a custodian for the books was granted by Judge Hubbard. The defendant prayed an appeal to the court until next Saturday, when the right to appeal will be argued and decided.

THE FLOWER SHOW.

THE ANNUAL exhibit of the Horticultural society, which is to be held in this city on August 15 and 16, is already attracting a good deal of attention and bids fair to be of great interest.

When we consider how much this city owes to its trees and its lawns, its gardens, shrubs and flowering plants, we cannot fail to recognize that an association that devotes its chief effort to the encouragement of horticulture is one that deserves the most widespread support and interest.

The flower show has been very successful in past years and it promises to be even more so this year. One of the most valuable features of the work of this society is the interest aroused by it among the children, who are encouraged in every possible way to take an interest in flower growing, and who are rewarded by special prizes for their success in this line. Such work is sure to bring a rich reward for the benefit of the city, not only in the present, but also in future years.

THE AMERICAN SPIRIT.

THE LIVING AGE for August 3 contains the first half of a translation of an article written by Ferdinand Brunetiere for the Revue des Deux Monues. This article is a review of a book recently published under the title of "L'Ame Americaine," and itself written by M. Edmond de Nevors. The purpose of the book is announced by its author, who is a French Canadian, to be to ascertain what the American spirit is, if one exists, with a view to determine the attitude of French Canadians and of Frenchmen and of those of French race generally towards the problems which concern the extension of the power and the territory of the American republic.

The article as it appears in the Living Age is particularly well worth reading not only for its intrinsic merit but also because it presents the opinions of an outside observer who has evidently given very serious thought to a matter of great importance that has not as yet received the consideration it deserves.

In the first half, which is all we have at hand, particular attention is given to the composite character of our population, with the evident purpose of showing that the American race does not yet exist, but is rather in the purpose of formation, and that consequently it is particularly difficult if not impossible to ascertain and to estimate what the American spirit really is. M. de Nevers claims not only that the English constitute only a small minority of our present population, but he also shows with some care that from the earliest history of the country our population was made up of very diverse elements. The author has not the advantage of the tabulations of the recent census, which are not yet complete, and his figures are lacking in novelty, but they are none the less important and even startling to any who may not be familiar with them. He declares, for instance, that there are in this country 2,500,000 Swedes and Norwegians, 1,600,000 Italians, 2,000,000 Poles, 1,300,000 French Canadians, 1,000,000 French, Belgians and Swiss, 600,000 Hungarians, 600,000 Czechs, 125,000 Danes and 250,000 Chinamen. In addition to these M. de Nevers counts 20,000,000 Germans, and 26,000,000 Irish. As for the English stock, our author allows it only six or seven millions.

Without discussing the reliability of M. de Nevers' figures, or the fairness of his claim that America is rather Celtic than Anglo-Saxon, it is only fair to point out that the presence of these elements in our population does not necessarily imply the absence of an American spirit or the weakness of the American nation. Neither does it follow that our spirit is not primarily Anglo-Saxon because the majority of our people did not derive their birth or parentage from England. What may be the American spirit of the future we do not know, but it is a fact that at the present time our language, our laws, our literature, our religion, our social customs, our political system and methods, our methods of thought, and even our ideals and aspirations, are determined according to the English model, from which indeed we vary more or less, but which we follow more nearly than that of any other people. And we do this the more easily because the English are themselves a composite race made of successive aggregations of people from widely different sources and of greatly varying quality.

To test the quality of the American spirit is not sufficient to analyze the component parts of our population. The chemist who traces to their ultimate analysis the elements that go to make up the petals of the rose or of its perfume is performing only an imperfect operation. To judge the American spirit one must consider not its composition, but its product; not its dissected parts, but its flower and its action. When the Americans of the north and those of the south met at Gettysburg there was no question that the spirit that rose to that height of martial courage was the American spirit, regardless of the name or the parentage of the men in the ranks; when the men behind the guns swept the seas at Manila and at Santiago it was the American spirit that won the day. It is the American spirit that has driven the pioneer across the continent, whether that pioneer be the French courier des prairies, the Swedish lumberman, the German plowman or the Italian market gardener. It is the American spirit that has built the proud edifice of our national government, an indissoluble union of self-governing states, such as the world has never before seen. It is the American spirit that is fast making this the greatest nation the world has ever seen, supreme in power, supreme in material accomplishment, supreme in commerce, in wealth, in influence, supreme in freedom and the highest degree of individual happiness for its people.

If the time has come when the nations of the world contend with each other for the honor of having played the greater part in the attainments of the American people, our honor is great; yet the final and total product and accomplishment must be and is wholly American.

STATE DAYS IN COLORADO SPRINGS.

THE COSMOPOLITAN character of Colorado Springs is too well known to need proof in these columns. Every state in the union and many foreign countries are represented here, and many of them in considerable numbers. A striking proof of this was given last winter when the Gazette published a series of articles, illustrated by portraits, upon Colorado Springs citizens born in other states.

Quite recently a movement has begun toward holding special reunions or celebrations by citizens and visitors of the various states. The Missourians have already had their meeting and Kansans have announced their intention of meeting for such a purpose, and there are doubtless others who will follow the example.

The idea is a good one, and there is no reason why it should not result in a valuable addition to our summer life in this city, and the more so if in connection with these annual reunions societies should be established of a more permanent nature.

The promoters of the Kansas and Missouri reunions have the best wishes of the Gazette and we hope their efforts may have many imitators.

THE ANDERSON JURY CHARGES.

THE CHARGES that attempts had been made to bribe the jury in the Anderson case in order to secure the conviction of the accused come with too much force to be ignored. Five jurymen have made affidavits that an attempt was made to bribe them by offers of money and of positions, and such definite and substantial charges should receive the most thorough and searching investigation that it is possible to give them.

From the facts as presented it appears evident either that a most audacious attempt has been made to secure the conviction of Anderson by the most corrupt methods, or else that there is an attempt equally bold and equally dishonest to creat a public sentiment in his favor and to secure the end of the prosecution against him.

In either case a most villainous perversion of justice has been attempted and the courts and citizens of Denver owe it to their own honor and safety to probe the affair to the bottom and to determine the rights of the matter.

Pending the result of such an investigation the Gazette reserves further comment, merely expressing the emphatic opinion that the result of the investigation ought to be such a punishment for whoever may be found guilty as will forever prevent the repetition of any such scandal and injury to the good name of our state and to the cause of justice.

MARYLAND REPUBLICANS.

THE STATE CONVENTION of Maryland Republicans met at Baltimore yesterday nominated candidates for the minor state offices to be filled at the next election and adopted a platform. The last night in the election will come upon two members of the state legislature, and the state platform represents chiefly the party policy which the Republican legislators may be expected to pursue if their party succeeds in gaining a majority.

Taking advantage of a temporary return to power the Democratic party of Maryland has passed an election law that gives them a great advantage over their opponents. By means of this law rather than by their superiority of numbers the Democrats expect to carry the coming election and then to take further action that will disfranchise a large number of the voters of the state, and give their party a permanent control of its affairs. The Democrats, in fact, in their state platform recently adopted, openly admit that the Republicans are in the majority, but they claim that the Democrats have a majority of the white residents of the state and that it is a necessity to the welfare and progress of the commonwealth that their party should rule its affairs, and therefore the negroes should be disfranchised.

The Republicans do not appear to have accepted the issue as frankly as an advocate of universal suffrage might wish. They condemn the present iniquitous election law, they announce themselves in favor of passing more stringent measures against corrupt practices at elections and to regulate the primaries, but they do not come out openly in favor of the strict observance of the federal Constitution and the preservation of the right to a free vote and a fair count for every citizen of the state. Such an attitude may be good politics in Maryland, but it will weaken the sympathy extended to the Republicans of Maryland by their fellow Republicans in other states. If the Republicans there are not willing to meet the negro question fairly and squarely and to declare that the guarantees now existing in the state and national constitutions should be observed and maintained, they cannot expect that the Republicans of other states will pity them for the fate which they are inviting.

Among the many complimentary notices received for the Quarto-centennial edition of the Gazette, the following from the Grand Junction Sentinel is especially valued:

> The Colorado Springs Gazette, in its Quarto-centennial edition, was easily one of the greatest papers issued in this state. Colorado people do not have to look to Denver papers any more to secure a great state paper. The edition was 40 pages and comprehended in full detail every item of interest relating to the first quarter century period of this state. For many years the people of the state and the newspapers drew their cue from the utterances of several of the big daily papers of Denver. The fact of today is that all of the Denver publications will have to look carefully to the future if they would not be outdone by the Colorado Springs papers.

The success of the Midland band at Milwaukee was a great honor to that organization and incidentally to this city. There were more than a score of competing bands, including some of the best in the United States, and in getting the third prize the Colorado Springs band did much better than might have been expected of an organization resident in a city of this size. Director Irvine has good reason to be congratulated upon the success of his efforts.

One of the handsomest pages in the Quarto-centennial edition of the Gazette was that devoted to Glenwood Springs. A good part of the credit of this is due to the photographs, which were the work of H. H. Buckwalter, railroad photographer of Denver.

The California gold robbery is one of the largest ever known in this country. It seems almost inconceivable that such a large amount of precious metal could have been handled and stored with such small precautions for its safety.

A German balloonist recently ascended to a height of 33,000 feet and discovered a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. That region is evidently until for residence purposes and we prefer Colorado Springs.

FROM THE PRESS OF THE NATION.

Superstition and Providence.

(Topeka Capital.)

The New York Evening Post, a paper noted for its usual sane common sense, persists in sharp criticism of a certain element of expansionists for professing to believe that the hand of divine Providence has been in the recent history of Spain and the United States. Of all hypocrisies this, to the Evening Post, is the most repulsive. The belief of such American citizens that Providence had a certain supervision over the war with Spain, the naval campaigns, the remarkable consequences in the expiration of the Spanish colonial system and the succession of the United States as a colonial power is characterized by the Post as childish superstition, little less than blasphemous.

If the Evening Post and papers which follow after it mean to say that the belief of millions of intelligent human beings that divine purposes are at work in the world and have been from the beginning of time is childish superstition, it follows that in their opinion the only thing that is not childish and superstitious is pure atheism. The Post has too much sense to maintain such an extreme view. But on the other hand, if there is "a destiny that shapes our ends" on a grand and majestic plan if in the long run divine purposes are carried out in the affairs of nations, there is a want of logic and consistency in accusing persons of blasphemy and superstition who profess to believe that in particular events of vast present and future importance and influence on the course of history the hand of Providence is to be recognized.

In the war with Spain and its direct results one chapter of history closed and another opened. Many Americans, and if the truth were known doubtless many Spaniards, believe that the destruction of Spain as a colonial power after four centuries of trial, during which period ignorance, cruelty and oppression marked its policy towards its dependents, was a direct punishment by the hand of the supreme judge of nations. They believe that authority transferred from Spain because it had been weighed in the balances and found wanting, that the time had come when judgment was to be declared and punishment executed. They are further of the belief that this power was transferred to the United States not only because this nation had become ready and fitted to assume it, but because of the unselfishness of its intervention in behalf of a struggling people, the only instance in history of one nation making war on another for the benefit of a third. If it is conceivable at all that at any time or under any circumstances a higher power intervenes in human affairs, the Spanish war and the strange and epoch-making events following out of it, unthought of by the American people or government when the war was entered upon, would seem to afford a sufficiently gigantic scale to inspire the belief. It is further impressed on the minds of many Americans by the unprecedented circumstances that attended the war. That two of the greatest naval battles of history, both in the numbers engaged and the destructive power of the warships on both sides, should have resulted in each case in the total annihilation of one party without the loss of a ship or even of a man of the other, is certainly an astounding fact, worthy, if any event can be, of being regarded as miraculous and providential.

It is impossible to complacently eliminate Providence from among the factors in history. Repeatedly during the Revolutionary war and later, Washington, in solemn words, declared his reliance upon divine power and aid, and testified his conviction that the favorable issue was due to the intervention of Providence. When Lincoln took leave of his townspeople at Springfield in February, 1861, in an affecting speech he declared his conviction that only the favor of the Almighty could save the nation. Throughout the war his reliance on and faith in providential aid were many times reiterated, and in his second inaugural address he asserted his belief that the terrible Civil war was a chastisement of the American people by the hand of the ruler of nations for their national sin of human slavery. If it was not childish superstition in Washington and Lincoln to recognize the direct intervention of divine power in the affairs of the country forty or a hundred years ago, it is difficult to see on what ground such a claim can be brought in relation to the Spanish-American war and events provoking and growing out of it.

Pueblo Is the Largest Smelting City in the World.

(Pueblo Opinion.)

Last Thursday the Colorado Springs Gazette issued one of the handsomest editions ever gotten out by a Colorado daily newspaper. It was many pages, splendidly written articles, and among them was a column on Pueblo. The writer intended to be complimentary to Pueblo, but the article in one respect did Pueblo great injustice. We refer to the smelting of ores. The article says that "Pueblo is the greatest smelting center in the west, Denver excepted."

The Opinion has from time to time called attention to the fact that Pueblo is the greatest smelting center in the world, and the figures have been given to prove it. We again reproduce the figures that our readers may see how much of a smelting town Denver is as compared with Pueblo:

Denver's American smelters for 1900 produced 962,191 ounces of gold; 8,859,127 ounces of silver; 615,382 pounds of copper, and 51,770,000 pounds of lead.

Pueblo American smelters (2) produced 187,445 ounces of gold; 6,526,800 ounces of silver; 31,692 pounds of copper and 32,550,000 pounds of lead.

The Philadelphia smelter of Pueblo alone produced in 1900 206,332 ounces of gold; 8,350,485 ounces of silver; 72,127,631 pounds of lead, and 8,550,831 pounds of copper, making a total for Pueblo smelters of 403,477 ounces of gold; 14,706,744 ounces of silver; 6,552,193 pounds of copper, and 165,014,000 pounds of lead.

A comparison of the above figures show that one plant (the Philadelphia) produced almost as much in dollars and cents as did all the smelters of Denver, and that the combined smelters of Pueblo produced about twice as much as did Denver's smelters.

Another fact is that Pueblo's smelters treated about 51 per cent. of the smelting ores of Colorado last year, and this year will reach 60 or 65 per cent.

And when the American Smelting company completes their improvements Pueblo will be so much greater as a smelting center that no other town will make another boast of being in it with Pueblo.

A ride over any part of this county can but convince any one that this is a good stock county, but from the number of improved farms and ranches that can be seen from any given point, it ought to convince prospective stockmen that the range is already crowded. While there seems to be an abundance of grass, and so there is at this time of year, 10 months must yet elapse before the supply will be replenished. Residents and tax payers feel that they are entitled to the first claim to range and they are justified in discouraging the bringing of more cattle into the county.—(Hotbroke Republican.

THE ASSURANCE

It is sometimes said, "There is not much in a name." That depends upon circumstances. If an individual or a business institution has a name which through years of fair and honorable dealing has gained repute, there is much in the name; it gives strength and credit to its fortunate possessor. The "good will" of a business goes with the name. An instance in point is that of The Assurance Savings and Loan Association, which by honest dealing and careful management has acquired and deserves the confidence of this community. Its plans for both investors and borrowers are very attractive.

Women's Board Acts for Flower Show

An important meeting of the women's advisory board of the Horticultural society was held yesterday morning at Mrs. Jewett's residence, 1507 North Cascade, at which the final plans for the exhibition were discussed and several important matters settled.

Mrs. Tiffany, Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Jamison will have charge of the ice cream and lemonade booth, where visitors can eat and drink long life to the Horticultural society of El Paso county.

The cut-flower booth, where flowers will be sold for the benefit of the Day nursery, will be in charge of Miss Jennie Burns, assisted by several young ladies. Friends who wish to help this worthy cause may send cut flowers (each variety tied separately) to the tents in the North park during the days of the exhibition.

Mr. Harry Harris, president of the association, met with the advisory board and made suggestions regarding the staging of children's exhibits.

The success of the exhibition is assured. Much interest is being taken not only by our home people but by others throughout the state.

You can't afford to miss this exhibition. It is one of the best things of a summer crowded full of good things. You may have missed the street fair, the Midway, missed even the grasp of "Teddy's" hand, and "Teddy's smile, but don't miss attending the flower show.

Police Make Day Raid on Hop Joint

The opium joints in this city must be closed for good. The police are on the warpath after the hop vendor, and no halt will be made until all traffic in the drug is abolished.

Yesterday a number of raids were made by Sergeant McNew, Patrolman Hughes and Detective Dayton on Chinese laundries, and at one place, on Nevada avenue, just north of Kiowa street, three arrests were made about 3 o'clock. The raid on this last-named place was timed a little too early, for the parties arrested were still preparing the opium and had not yet started to smoke.

Two Chinamen, Yee Ye and Yee Jim, and a Colorado City gambler, giving the name of George Brooke, were caught in the raid, and Judge Bostright held a special session of the police court about 8:30 o'clock to dispose of their cases. The Chinese pleaded guilty and were fined $50 and costs each, though the fine was suspended on promise of good behavior. The judge read them a severe lecture before dismissing them, and warned them that a heavy fine would be imposed if they were caught again. Because of lack of evidence Brooke was not prosecuted.

The police say they have little trouble with the Chinese, but white men addicted to the use of the drug go into the laundries and insist on smoking, often threatening the lives of the orientals when the demands are refused.

USELESS THINGS

There's no waste in this world unless you make it. Somebody wants everything you don't want and is willing to pay a fair price for it.

You needn't throw away unused articles or store them uncomfortably in the attic.

Sell them; other folks do.

Gazette warranted want ads sell dozens of such articles every day. Many folks use them whenever something turns up which has any value to dispose of.

Warranted wants is a different proposition than other papers, make more liberal, more advantageous to the advertiser. There's no advance in price, but the Gazette takes the risk.

If you've never used warranted wants it won't cost you much to try—ten, fifteen or twenty cents and you may sell something that's just like finding money. If you fail, why the Gazette takes the risk.

Gazette warranted wants will rent a room, house, office, store or ranch; sell a house, horse, bicycle or anything of value; exchange what you don't want for what you do; get you good help or a situation. They will accomplish most anything in the way of human transactions. They do these things for other people every day. Why shouldn't they do them for you?

Give them a trial; the Gazette takes the risk.

Read them every day.

A NEW ZEALAND LEASE

New Company With Good Backing Has Taken Hold of Main Workings on the Deadwood No. 2.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Aug. 6.—The Perkins-Belcher lease on the main workings of the Deadwood No. 2 of the New Zealand company has been transferred to a new leasing company with splendid capital back of it in the east. James H. Ryan, son of Dan Moran, is president of the company and R. P. Russell is the manager. Work has been confined so far and the property will probably be made to ship at once. A good deal of development work was done on this old lease. The shaft is down to the 500 foot depth at which point the showing is fairly good. The best ore was found in the 650 foot level and the lease has been shipping for a long period. The ore in the 700 foot level has not been fully developed and it may be that the best of it has not been opened up yet. Mr. Ryan, of the old firm of Ryan & Finney, will shortly take up a new proposition. Stark Bros. and Lapport sub-leasing on the Princess I and the Maid of Erin claims on Raven hill report that the streak of ore in the drift in the shaft to connect with the ore body has widened out considerably and is giving excellent results. [illegible] is being sacked.

Bruss leasing the Republic claim of the Mary McKinney company on the south end of the property is producing about 100 tons a month, the bulk of which is from the 200 foot level. The ore is averaging in grade about three ounces in gold to the ton. Very little work is being done in the 300 foot level of the property.

Adams & Company, working a lease on the Trail of the Battle Mountain Consolidated company are sacking ore from the 150 foot level that runs up into a good high grade. An assay on a small streak has returned $240 to the ton. The last shipment sent out averaged $97.60.

The Battle Mountain Consolidated is doing some important work on the north part of the Trail, where a station has been cut at the 450 foot level of the shaft and electric drills will be installed. A fluorine vein is being exploited, with the expectation of finding ore in shipping quantities. There are several other sets of lessees working on the Trail and a few of them are shipping ore that runs all the way from one to three ounces to the ton.

Miller & company, leasing the Findley dump on Bull hill have received returns from a ton shipment of wastings sent out a week ago. The ore averaged $8 to the ton. A 10 ton shipment of washings will be sent out from the same dump by Clare & company, who also have a lease.

THE STOCK REVENUE TAX

May Be Declared Unconstitutional Which Would Exempt Local Traders and Give Them Grounds for Damage Suits

In the New York Tribune for August 2 there is an interesting piece of news in regard to the constitutionality of the internal revenue tax on stock certificates. Although there is a touch of the frivolous in the article it seems probable that the test which Mr. Thomas is going to make is in good faith. Inasmuch as [illegible] is of as vital importance to Colorado Springs as to New York brokers the test case will be watched with interest here.

If the law is declared unconstitutional not only will the revenue on stock certificates be declared off but all those who have paid it will be able to collect damages from the United States government.

The article is as follows:

George C. Thomas, one of the directors of the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange, has been [illegible] day on his own invitation by an agent of the internal revenue department. In order to give occasion for the arrest Mr. Thomas has openly refused to comply with the regulations under which Charles H. Treat, the collector of internal revenue for the second district of New York, has been collecting for the government $2 for every 100 shares of stock sold by the brokers in the exchanges. The tax on stock transfers has been a part of the war tax. Mr. Thomas and other brokers were advised months ago by lawyers that [illegible] decided to make a test case by transferring stock without affixing the stamps and paying the tax.

On May 22 Mr. Thomas began to defy the collector of internal revenue, and in order that there should be no concealment of his disobedience of the revenue law he made a report to his legal advisers, and the lawyers sent notice to Collector Treat. Mr. Thomas has continued to transfer stocks unstamped since May, and the lawyers have continued to keep Mr. Treat informed of the broker's contumacious attitude, but the collector made no move to enforce the regulations in the case of Mr. Thomas until yesterday, when a revenue agent waited upon Mr. Thomas and told him to appear at the office of Collector Treat at noon today and be arrested.

It was learned yesterday afternoon that there was an arrangement to have Mr. Thomas [illegible] United States Commissioner Shields and held for trial on the charge of violating the internal revenue law. Mr. Thomas will be able to give bail and his counsel will demur to his trial on the ground that the law providing for the tax he refuses to pay is unconstitutional. If the contention of the lawyers is sustained by the courts Mr. Thomas gets off easily. If the law is declared to be constitutional he has no defense and must plead guilty to the charge of violating the law.

[illegible] Friday Mr. Thomas said yesterday that he was taking a great risk in making the test case. The penalty for violating the tax regulation is a fine of not less than $500 and not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for six months or both in the discretion of the court. As Mr. Thomas has been refusing to pay the tax for more than two months his friends say that he has made himself liable to fines amounting to more than $1,000,000 and to imprisonment for about 500 years. He was reported to have said yesterday that he might be willing to be kept in jail 500 years [illegible] if he could be convicted. Many brokers will be interested in the case of Mr. Thomas because the tax on stock transfers will have to stop if the law is declared unconstitutional, and brokers who have paid the tax will have claims against the government for the amount of the tax collected.

Mr. Thomas is a popular broker in Wall street and has been well known there for years. He formerly was connected with a firm having membership in the Stock exchange, but a few years ago he became a member of the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum exchange and was elected a director.

GOLDEN CYCLE GALLOWS FRAME

Will Soon Be Up—the Foundation for the Same Now Being Under Way---Elaborate Precautions Against Fire in the Shaft.

Whenever the buildings of the Golden Cycle company catch on fire again there will not be much chance for said fire to go down the shaft and create destruction as it did before. To ward against such a thing the management of the company is making special provision by constructing a brick rim several feet down the mouth of the shaft. [illegible] in order to cut off the draft in the shaft in case of a fire. This can be quickly and easily operated from the surface and drawn across the mouth of the shaft upon an alarm of fire being given and will effectually prevent the progress of the flames downward. As a further precaution water pipes are also being arranged around the mouth and they are so connected that water can be started to flow through them at a moment's notice. All this will make the shaft absolutely secure from fire and at the same time lessen the insurance risk of the property.

The foundation for the gallows frame is now being laid and this will soon be erected. In the meanwhile all the other [illegible] work is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible, and it will not be so very long now before the mine is in regular running order again, greatly improved and renewed as a result of the new equipment and construction which the force has been busy getting into place for the past two months.

MINING NOTES AROUND TOWN

Word comes from Leadville that the New Monarch property, which adjoins the Fanny Rawlings, is developing some ore bodies at a depth of 400 feet which the South Winnie Leasing company is exploiting in such a satisfactory way in the 300 foot level. The New Monarch has had the shaft for a long time, but the importance to the Fanny Rawlings lies in the fact that as depth is attained in the adjoining property the value has increased. This influence, are the ores, [illegible] other. They are at the present time maintaining a production of between four and five tons daily, and the company is receiving its lessees regularly, enabling it to make good headway in paying off its indebtedness. In a short time the company will be on an excellent financial footing.

GOOD VALUES IN THE EL PASO CONSOLIDATED

At a distance of 15 feet north of the crosscut in the 600-foot level of the El Paso mine the ore body now averages three and one half feet in width and the values for 15 inches of this are $150, while the balance runs $60 in gold to the ton. This showing has never been exceeded in the mine, nor has the shoot ever been so permanent. It will need about 100 feet more work in this direction to open the Spratt shoot on its north side, a great deal is already being anticipated from this development. The ore has been so exceedingly rich in the 400 foot level in the Kimberly that it is expected to be a bonanza at the [illegible] depth following the order of all the other ore shoots on Beacon hill of gradually increasing depth was acquired.

GOLDSTONERS ARE PUTTING UP THE MONEY

Stockholders in the Goldstone Mining and Milling company are responding fairly well to the assessment of $1.25 per 1,000 shares, reports Receiver Sungerlin, and as good a percentage as could be expected is expressing his approval of the reorganization scheme which was recently adopted, whereby the stockholders, both legitimate and spurious, receive five shares in a new company [illegible] a quarter per share in addition. The alternative is generally recognized in mining circles as being the only reasonable one, and it is to be hoped that all stockholders will reply quickly to the circulars which have been sent out and enable the work of reorganization to be concluded as rapidly as possible.

INDEPENDENCE CONS IS MAKING SOME MONEY

The Independence Consolidated company reports Manager Durham is shipping about 15 tons daily from the upper levels of the Hull City placer. This with the royalties which are received from the King and Whiting lease, will be more than pay the expenses of operation. It is now recognized by the management that the lower workings of the mine are in the barren zone and that it will take a considerable amount of money to recover, or even attempt to recover, the ore shoot. They will therefore [illegible] it until there is [illegible] to warrant it. King and Whiting are now crosscutting for their ore shoot from the new level, but 110 feet of work will have to be done before it can be entered.

EXTENSIVE DEVELOPMENT FOR ALAMO PROPERTY

The property of the Alamo company, which is now being worked by the company through the Ophelia tunnel and by lessees, is to be subjected to more extensive development than has before been attempted. A contract has just been let for 200 feet of drifting to be done from the tunnel level to a point under the shaft, which is now down 250 feet. When that point is reached an upraise will be constructed to make a connection. The tunnel level is about 400 feet below the surface at this point. A shoot which in its general character resembles the ore from the Anaconda and Mary McKinney has been opened up in a crosscut run into a vein at this depth and streaks of the rock assay as high as $300 in gold to the ton, although the shoot still averages below pay.

NEW ORE SHOOT ON THE SANTA RITA MINE

An ore shoot has just been opened in the north 600-foot level of the Santa Rita mine on Squaw mountain, a property of the Atlantis Mines corporation. The shoot averages two feet of good ore, which, three inches will run the $200 in gold to the ton. The [illegible] if the crosscut will [illegible] the present depth there will be 200 feet of stoping ground immediately available. The ore in the south 600-foot level is still holding out well and the developments in the fifth level have been satisfactory. The company is doing a considerable amount of dead work before beginning the work of enlarging the shaft.

It's a Serious Thing

For a woman to come to that period known as change of life. It is almost always a period of suffering and the derangement of mind and body is sometimes so great that the family life is utterly marred by the unhappy wife and mother. At such a time every woman needs just the help that is given in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It works with Nature, soothes the nerves by nourishing them, and cures diseases of the delicate organs. In brief it makes weak women strong, sick women well.

"Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic.

"I feel like taking four bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' for female weakness and change of life," writes Mrs. Lizzie A. Bowman of New Metamora, Washington Co., Ohio. "Before I began taking it I could not do anything. I had such pains in my head and in the back of my neck that I thought I would lose my mind. Now I can work every day and do not suffer. I recommend Favorite Prescription to all women suffering in the period of change of life. It is the best medicine I have found."

Every woman should send for a free copy of Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser. Send 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ANCHORIA LELAND IS MAKING STEADY PROGRESS

The Anchoria Leland [illegible] working steadily on its Lillian Leland group and has now its winze down to a depth of 50 feet below the 600 foot level. It is the aim of the company to develop, through exploration in search of the ore shoot which has never been opened below the water level. From the upper level of the mine the company is maintaining some production and the lessees are shipping steadily. The [illegible] operation of the Conundrum claim shipping regularly from that property and altogether the income is more than equal to the expenditure, enabling the company to gradually pay off its indebtedness. When this is done it does not seem impossible in case the improvement of the last few months persists that dividends can again be considered.

RETURNS RECEIVED FROM GOLD BOND SHIPMENT.

Returns have just been received from the latest shipment sent out from the Hammer lease on the Gold Bond property. The lot consisted of 26 tons and was settled for at the rate of $31 in gold to the ton. There is now about the same amount of ore on hand which will be sent out in a [illegible] the values are expected to average about the same. The ore is all coming from the shoot at a depth of 200 feet from the surface. An upraise is now being constructed from this depth to connect with an old 60-foot shaft, and when this is completed it is the purpose of the lessees to install a plant of machinery including an air compressor. The Gold Bond property is being worked in blocks and the development in all sections is progressing at a satisfactory rate.

There was considerable activity in A. J. around 14½. The stock which was offered for sale was quite easily taken care of, although the reports of the condition of the company's treasury which were current on the floor were not of an encouraging character. Both Columbia and El Paso were in the demand, selling at higher prices, but Doctor suffered somewhat under heavy selling, closing not particularly strong at 62. Gold Dollar went as high as 17½ (buyer 30), and Isabella noticed the sensational advance of the day, closing strong at 49. A surprise, it is said, may be lurking in these shares, ready to be sprung within a very few weeks. Alamo and Acacia were again in demand at higher prices.

IT all depends upon what you want in a soap. If you require simply a dirt remover, almost any soap will do. But if you care at all about the thing which is to be washed, you must think twice before you act. Any soap will clean linens and muslins, but Ivory Soap leaves them as white as snow. Any soap will clean sheets and table cloths, but Ivory Soap leaves no coarse, strong odor. Try it once!

COUNCIL SEEKS ADVICE ON WATER

Aldermen Decide to Hear Citizens Tell What They Know About Proposed Schemes for Increasing Supply.

The city council decided last night to take up the water proposition now before it and come to some definite conclusion at its next regular meeting. A number of the insinuations which had been cast about regarding their action on water questions and all avowed their intentions of acting as they thought best for the city's interests.

In order that all citizens interested in the several propositions before the council and all who have any information regarding them may have an opportunity to consult with the council all citizens are invited to attend the next regular meeting. The president will appoint a committee of six citizens from each ward to meet with the council and give their advice and opinion. These appointments will be made on the recommendation of the aldermen and any persons also specially informed on the water question should communicate at once with the aldermen of their wards.

The committee will be selected tomorrow night, and an effort will be made to have the investigation prompt and thorough so that the offers may be accepted or refused at the next regular meeting, August 19.

There was a disposition shown to be deliberate and careful in the purchase of further water rights and there was also a feeling that the council thought the propositions in question would have occupied the attention of the members long enough by the next meeting, and it was deemed wise to take some early definite action.

Routine Business Took Council's Time

The city council met last night in the first regular session of the month. A great deal of routine business was disposed of including the allowing of bills for July and decision on requests and petitions from citizens.

A memorial from citizens of the west side was read asking for an extension of the sewer system through block 83. Another petition asked that a drinking fountain be placed on the corner of Spruce street and the Mesa road, and on motion by Alderman St. John the water committee was empowered to do the work. Mr. J. W. Wayco stated that he intended building an addition to his [illegible] and asked if the change and Sixteenth street grade be established. The city engineer was instructed to do the surveying.

Thos. Coughlin asked to negotiate with the city for a strip of grade on the south side of the present city hall. He expects to extend his four story hotel back to the alley and wants a piece of ground 5x10 feet on the north for an air and light shaft. The building committee will consider the matter and make recommendations later.

A petition from the Colorado Springs Gentlemen's Driving association asking that the city take charge of its speedway [illegible] to throw the track open to the public. This drive way was constructed by the association at a large cost, but owing to lack of appliances the club cannot keep it in order. Judge Harris addressed the council in the interest of the speedway promoters and after considerable [illegible] the matter was referred to the street committee.

Alderman St. John read an extensive report on his trip east to the water convention in the interests of the city. He outlined the work done at the meeting which was attended by representatives of most all the large cities of the country, and discussed the deductions reached. He stated that the consumption of water in this city is greater per capita than in any of the eastern cities visited and in closing his remarks recommended the immediate establishment of a filter system here.

[illegible] given by Fire Chief of the Council Meintyre, setting up the observations made by himself and Building Inspector Coray with a view to selecting plans for the new city hall.

The attention of the council has been taken up for some time with a proposition to pay $[illegible] toward the purchase of a lot to extend Alley [illegible]. The residents of that vicinity have raised $[illegible] and Alderman Ashworth asked that the city pay the remaining $[illegible] and open up the street. The matter was finally made a special order for Wednesday next.

The reports of the city officers for July were read showing a great deal of activity. The police court reported $[illegible] collected in fines during the past month. The expense bill for the city showed a total of $[illegible].

Ordinances were introduced and ordered advertised according to law providing for an official renumbering of the city and for an amendment to the ordinance on weights and measures. [illegible] placed on its passage the ordinance providing for the [illegible] near the Santa Fe tracks was unanimously accepted.

The council will meet in special session tomorrow night.

YOUNG COLORED WOMAN ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

Mrs. Anna Carter a young colored woman attempted to commit suicide this morning (Tuesday) about [illegible] o'clock at the Santa Fe station. She is only 17 years of age. Last night an unhappy scene took place between the woman and her husband as a result she left her home in Manitou. It is alleged that the cause of her trouble was that her husband would not comply with her wishes. In a fit of desperation she took her little baby only two months old and started for the city followed by her husband. The woman was found in the Denver & Rio Grande yards, and the husband took her to the police headquarters in the hopes that they would make her return with him.

After leaving the police station the couple went to the Santa Fe depot and it was here that Mrs. Carter attempted to take her life by drinking chloroform. Fearful that she really might not fulfill her mission Mrs. Carter sought further to take her life by repeatedly driving a long hat pin through her neck.

Dr. Richardson was summoned and arrived in time to give relief. The woman will live though she is still in a critical condition.

After [illegible] and Mrs. Carter was taken to the county jail temporarily for safe keeping.

WHAT THEY SAW AWAY FROM HOME

Public Grounds Committee Makes a Formal Report to the Council on the Recent Eastern Tour.

Aldermen McIntyre and St. John and Building Inspector Coray last night reported to the city council on one of their observations in the east and made a number of recommendations regarding the new city hall. The committee visited a great many city halls in Colorado Springs. The report and recommendations follow in the accompanying statement made last night to the council.

Colorado Springs, Colo.
August, 1901.

To the Mayor and Common Council
Colorado Springs, Colo.

Messrs.

Your committee appointed by resolution of your body and authorized to proceed to the eastern states and directed to make investigations as to public buildings in various cities involving modern methods of construction, material, improvements, with a view to the construction of the proposed city hall in this city, beg leave to submit the following report.

Your committee left this city on June 3, 1901, and proceeded to execute the duties devolving upon them by the resolution. We visited the cities of Chicago, Buffalo, New York, Paterson, N. J., Binghamton, N. Y., Elmira, N. Y., Washington, D. C., Springfield, Ill., Jacksonville, Ill., Galesburg, Ill., St. Louis, Kansas City, Mo., and Burlington, Ia., and make a complete and thorough investigation of the public buildings situated therein.

Cities in the east which have erected public buildings and city halls recently embodying all modern improvements have as a rule expended more money than our city has appropriated, that is to say, [illegible] to $[illegible]. As a rule most of the more officers, and consequently require more room than this city.

Of the buildings which we visited the one which we considered possessed the most merit was the city hall of Paterson, N. J., a city with a population of about 100,000. This building cost in round numbers, $[illegible] as follows:

Vanderbeck & Son, building	$[illegible]
Edison Electric Illuminating Co., lighting	3,0[illegible]
Nellon & Barnon, steam heating	9,514.55
Carr & Ball, carving and creating	[illegible]
Joseph Sharp, painting	[illegible]
Krounds, granite work and paving	10,5[illegible]
Seth Thomas Clock Co., clock and bell	[illegible]
Co. Jas. S. F[illegible], gas and electric fixtures	3,140.00
Mail Chute	[illegible]
Printing and Incidentals	[illegible]
Expense Account	2,348.20
Architects	22,609.5[illegible]

We obtained the plans of this building. It is absolutely fire proof, the walls being of stone, the basement granite and the superstructure of stone. It is four stories in height including the basement. It has mosaic floors and is provided with an elevator. It is 79 feet 8 inches by 151 feet 4 inches in dimensions. The city jail there is a separate building. The official description is as follows:

The building is located in the very center of the city, bounded by Market, Hamilton, Pillson and New Colt streets. The total area of the lot is 33,850 square feet, of which the building occupies 17,150 square feet. The building is constructed of New York state quarried to the water table and above that of Indiana limestone. It is 151 feet 4 inches in length on the exterior and 79 feet 8 inches in depth on the exterior. The height above the sidewalk is 90 feet and above the foundation 103 feet 83 feet. The tower rises 164 feet above the foundation, and is 29 feet 6 inches square after it emerges from the building. At its base are two eagles each standing 4 feet 6 inches high and near the dome are two urns each 8 feet 6 inches high. Inside the walls the measurements of the floors are as follows: Basement floor 7457 square feet, first floor 8,049 square feet, second floor 8,3[illegible] square feet, third floor 9,494 square feet, fourth floor 3,445 sq. are feet. It is estimated that the building is composed of [illegible] for nearly a century. The interior is finished of the finest workmanship and furnished in the most elegant manner. The furniture throughout is of oak, except in the council chamber the historical room and the mayor's suite which are of a rich shade of mahogany. The furniture of this building cost $[illegible]000.

The building, the cost of which and the arrangements connected with it [illegible] requirements of a city hall for the city of Colorado Springs, we found to be the city hall of Elmira, N. Y., with a population of 47,000. This building cost $190,000. The building is 70 by 110 feet four stories high including the basement. The basement is built of stone and is occupied by the police department, except the office of the chief which is on the first floor, and includes the city jail. The first floor includes the police judge's court room, the justices' court room and the various city offices. The second floor consists of the city council chamber, a convention hall seating 500 people and city engineer's office, also that of the city board of education. The council chamber and convention hall are arranged so that they occupy the two upper stories within their limits, the remainder of each story being devoted to janitors and store rooms.

By dispensing with the convention hall the office of the city board of education, the janitor's room and other offices which we do not have, we think our city hall might be built on modified plans of the Elmira building, and yet be within the limit of our fund appropriated for its construction, and at the same time include some improvements to the same.

The first and second stories are built of brick and terra cotta. The patrol room and horses are kept in a building adjacent to the city hall. Each floor is provided with public lavatory. There is also an electric elevator. The building is also arranged with an inner court comprising the first and second floors from which court are the entrances to the various rooms and offices. The police matrons room and the cells for women are on the second floor. There are also six cells in the basement for white cases held for appearance at trial, separate and apart from those for prisoners. Your committee thinks this feature of the proposed city hall is very necessary. The building is fire proof, the floor being of tile.

The building which in our opinion gave the most office room combined with the best architectural effect for the least money is the court house at Binghamton, N. Y., with a population of 45,000. The walls are of stone in Palladian style. The front entrance is supported by six large stone columns which gave both prominence and permanent appearance to the building. It is 70 by 140 feet, two stories in height besides the basement. The cost of this building was $110,000 and is substantially fireproof, the floor being of marble as also the stairways, with the exception as hereinafter indicated. The general floors are of tile with the exception of the main approaches to the stairways and the basement, which latter is of concrete. The wainscoting of the first floor is of marble and the second floor of enameled brick. The windows are very large and of heavy plate glass with heavy oak as finishing. The ceilings are of steel. The vaults are adjacent below and continuous above.

The city halls of Springfield, Galesburg and Jacksonville, Ill., and Binghampton, N. Y., we found to be poorly lighted, unsatisfactory, unsanitary and with but few modern ideas of importance.

Your committee beg leave to make the following recommendations:

First—We recommend a building to be erected, the cost to be within the fund appropriated, on such plans as will permit of extension in the future when the population of the city requires it. The extension can be made by enlarging the ground plan or by adding an additional story to the structure to be erected now. We recommend a building four stories in height including the basement, the basement to be of granite and at least two thirds of same to be above the natural surface of the ground and to be occupied by the city police department and jail, also the police magistrate's court room, including female department. Also the heating and ventilating apparatus for the building, also a public lavatory. The latter we deem very essential.

The first story to consist of the offices of the city clerk, city treasurer, water commissioner, auditor, also a lavatory.

The second floor to consist of the offices of the mayor, city attorney, city engineer, health department, sewer inspector, market master, building inspector and [illegible] committee rooms and a council chamber, also a lavatory.

This building can be arranged with a pitch roof so that an additional story can be added when the needs of the city require it. We would also recommend that the building be fireproof and that the necessary vaults for the offices on the first floor be built contiguous but open to the different rooms. We also recommend that the floor in the basement be made of concrete and that the other floors be mosaic tile with the exception of the floors of the offices.

And that the wainscoting of the main halls and the lavatories be of Colorado marble or sconglioja. The outside walls above the basement to be built of Arvonia or Pompeian red brick and trimmed in terra cotta, or stone of a suitable color, provided the same can be furnished in this market at a reasonable price. That the structural part of the roof be of steel with the covering of slate or tile to suit, and that the plastering be finished in plain [illegible] the walls and ceilings of the main hall and council chamber be decorated or frescoed in oil or water colors of appropriate designs, and that the building be provided with the most modern system of heating and ventilating so as to insure the most complete results, and that the building be constructed with the arrangement for an elevator which if not put in place when the building is finished can be placed there [illegible].

"OLD KENTUCKY HOME FAR AWAY"

This Was the Theme of the Blue Grass Editors at Their Banquet at the Antlers Last Night.

Colorado is regarded, and justly so, as one of the most enterprising states in the union, being so regarded because of the many undertakings that she has assumed and put through, the conviction that has endured entirely for their success upon enterprise and [illegible]. In a genuine, liberal, and frequently misdirected way replaced before the fountain has run dry.

Colorado is not the only enterprising state in the union, however.

It was said by one of the speakers at the Kentucky Editorial association banquet at the Antlers hotel last night that Kentucky has the material in the agricultural resources to make her one of the foremost of all the states, if wealth acquired through these natural possessions, but that the people lack enterprise. This will be hard for Colorado to accept as a just charge to bring against a state that can get up a banquet such as that of last night, and have it served 1,000 miles from home for a manifest purpose, and a purpose so certainly effective. The banquet was tendered the editors of the Blue Grass country and other parts of Kentucky by the Louisville Interstate Fair association under whose auspices, together with the Louisville Merchants and Manufacturers association and the Kentucky Live Stock Breeders association, a fair is to be held in Louisville from September 23 to October 5. Colorado may be, and undoubtedly is, energetic, but there isn't anyone around this part of the country but will admit that the Louisville Interstate Fair association knows how to advertise its undertaking just about as effectively and effectively as it can be done. The banquet was served in the [illegible] company which [illegible] the tables was as fine a company of people as ever met in Colorado Springs. The spirit of cordiality was predominant, the ladies though tired from a day that took them all through the Garden of the Gods and [illegible] were wholly charming in their pretty costumes and fascinating southern grace of manner and the men those of them who in the fleeting hours of the evening permitted to be heard were most eloquent speakers, whose forceful manner well explains the results that sometimes occur when two of them come to factions, of them be one involved in a controversy. It was a high and resistible force had one encountered an immovable object.

The banquet began shortly after 9 o'clock and ran after [illegible] served. Manager M[illegible] [illegible] a great feast and providing every possible feature that could add to the pleasure of the occasion.

Notwithstanding Kentucky's established reputation as a place where the corn is full of kernels and the colonels full of corn, as Judge Toney referred to it in his remarks, there was no wine at the banquet. There was [illegible] protesting by one or two of the speakers, but notwithstanding this fact there was no wine and it was a thoroughly successful banquet.

J. W. Brown of Louisville is president of the association and was toastmaster at the banquet. When the hour for the speaking arrived he arose and in a rich, clear voice that carried to every corner of the room with no apparent effort on his part, he informed the guests of the evening that they were gathered to banquet on the roof of the continent. He did not forget to pay a graceful tribute to Old Kentucky, however, and his remarks were received with enthusiasm, notwithstanding the fact that he accused his hearers of being indifferent and appealed to them to treat his speakers with [illegible] than they had treated himself. Mr. William Lindsay Jones of the Courier-Journal, publication, spoke to the toast, "The Duty of the Press." His remarks were exceedingly well delivered, the subject being treated with the idea of impressing upon the minds of the greater Americans and everywhere in addition, using the colors of Kentucky, West [illegible] the Willard [illegible] Court [illegible] the most [illegible] [illegible] section of the [illegible] Our Country [illegible]. He spoke [illegible] telling of the [illegible] of the great [illegible] and of the great [illegible] that it is to all parts of the state [illegible] keeping the state [illegible] the [illegible] River and [illegible] the latter [illegible] serving and keeping for the former [illegible].

[illegible] Dr. W. [illegible] of the Mount Vernon [illegible] responded to the toast, "Our State." He [illegible] Car-Wheel [illegible] used to [illegible] of a [illegible] of a strong [illegible] and greatly delighted the [illegible] the subject of "Shirt Waists and Talk Being Reported." [illegible] [illegible] who was evidently behind the times but lose heart [illegible] was [illegible] at the occasion.

The principal address of the evening was made by Judge Sterling R. Jones, [illegible] who has served many years and has [illegible] a bright [illegible] and [illegible] an [illegible] of exceptional brilliancy and [illegible]. His subject was "[illegible] Was Kentucky [illegible]." [illegible] [illegible] that it [illegible] [illegible] for him while he found [illegible] of cing such a array of representative Kentucky men and representatives [illegible] opinion the spectacle was almost sufficient to call forth an echo from the mouth of a limb man. He has been in Colorado Springs for a week or more and his address was filled with beautiful [illegible] tribute to Colorado in general and Colorado Springs in particular. He said that he was glad the association selected this city as a place to come because the place is as beautiful as [illegible] cited several verses prettily worded and charmingly delivered, glorifying Colorado in every way, more verses than [illegible] and [illegible] by [illegible] [illegible] of eloquence reminded the assembled Kentuckians that they are at home in Colorado just as well as in Kentucky and could be in any state in the union, since all are Americans. He referred to the freedom of the press as something guaranteed and guarded by the Constitution of our fathers and by [illegible] struction would be simultaneous with the downfall of our civilization.

The entire company arose and sang "My Old Kentucky Home" and then went to their train.

The special train on which the editors left early this morning was filled with pamphlets and other literature about Colorado Springs and vicinity. The newspaper men who were in the party were greatly pleased with their visit here and will advertise Colorado Springs when they return home.

Many of the editors visited the chamber of commerce yesterday and were given information about the city. Secretary McClurg had a lot of pamphlets concerning Colorado Springs as a health resort and as an attractive place for travelers put on the trail last night.

CUMMINGS AGAINST THE FIELD FOR GOVERNOR

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Aug. 5.—Cummings against the field and the forces of the field for the absolute control of a steering and shaping committee is the situation tonight in the fight for the gubernatorial nomination in the coming Republican state convention. The committee is composed of two representatives of each candidate for governor with the exception of Cummings.

The determination of the candidates to make a united fight against Cummings as evidenced by the [illegible] referred to last night from an early [illegible] and [illegible] was decided to force the issue first of all before the committee on credentials here. The opposition to Cummings forces to take the [illegible] votes. These are the contests to come before the committee, involving Jackson county, 17 votes, [illegible] county, Tyndall, and [illegible] county, eight votes. The contests to come all against the Cummings men, and an effort will be made to unseat them. The make up of the credentials committee is still in doubt, the opposition to Cummings claiming seven out of the members, while the Cummings people claim four with the excellent prospect of getting two more. The make up of the committee is not of great importance, as no matter how the contests are decided, the committee report will be brought before the convention in the shape of majority and minority reports and right for will come the fight of Cummings and the field. The full strength of Cummings and the field will be put into the fight on the report of the credentials committee on the floor of the convention, and will make the next Republican nominee for governor. The Cummings people say that they will be able to win the fight on the floor of the convention no matter how the report of the committee goes, but this claim is denied vehemently by the managers of the other candidates.

They claim to have in opposition to Cummings an aggregate of 940 to 960 votes, and there they say when handled solidly will not only prevent the nomination of Cummings, but will insure the nomination of another man who may be backed by the state convention.

The action of the conference this afternoon in the fight over the report of the credentials committee, a bolt would be made to some one candidate and the field [illegible] the opposition there to hit. The Cummings people laugh at this and say that after they have won the fight on credentials there will be nothing to do but count the dead and among them will be nobody named Cummings.

Cummings can with the strength he now has at the present time practically control the vote for judge of the supreme court, and he will keep up his strength, where it would bring the largest return for his own candidacy. There has been some talk of enforcing the convention unit rule. It was first suggested by the opponents of Cummings, but the managers of his candidacy claim that the matter is one of indifference to them. There are several counties that are also instructed to vote as a unit and the question is about as broad as it is long. The matter will be probably left to the decision of individual delegations. As the matter stands tonight Cummings has a long lead.

MARYLAND REPUBLICANS READY FOR CONVENTION

Baltimore, Aug. 5.—Republican leaders from all parts of the state are here tonight getting ready for their state convention which will be held here tomorrow. The only [illegible] before them is the nomination of candidates for state comptroller and clerk of the court of appeals and formulation of a platform. But little time will be taken up in carrying out the program which has been mapped. Either ex Congressman I. N. Barber of Talbot county or H. S. Platt of Baltimore will be selected to head the ticket with the chances in favor of the latter. The court of appeals clerkship will in all probability go to Col. Thomas S. Parren of Calvert.

The platform has been the subject of much thought upon the part of leading men in the party. United States Senator McComas and State Chairman Phillips Lee Goldsborough today put the finishing touches on the principal planks to be submitted. These are understood to include strong pledges on behalf of the Republicans to repeal the present election law, to enact laws to prevent corrupt practices in connection with elections and to pass laws to govern the holding of primary elections. One of the planks it is understood will contain a severe arraignment of the Democrats upon their [illegible] [illegible] the currency [illegible] for new Senator Gorman. The administration of Governor Smith, will of the Democrats will also be the course of the [illegible] attempt to disfranchise the illiterate voters. But little heed will be paid however to the Democrat slogan of negro domination, it being the purpose of the Republican leaders to eliminate this question as much as possible.

STRIKE AT TAMPA

Tampa, Fla., Aug. 5.—The situation in the cigar makers strike remains critical. The positions of the unions and the manufacturers remain unchanged but it is feared that the public feeling engendered against the strikers will cause an outbreak sooner or later. Boycotts were today placed on many business concerns because they were reported to be friendly to certain people who are said to oppose La Lucha's [illegible] action. Others who are friendly but who are not engaged in business were followed through the streets on every appearance by [illegible] and [illegible] were narrowly averted.

MANIACS SUICIDE

Salt Lake, Utah, Aug. 5.—A special to the Deseret News from Provo, Utah, says that James M. Wilson a patient at the insane asylum threw himself headfirst into the open door of a furnace today. He was badly burned before being pulled out. While bandages were being prepared Wilson broke away and again threw himself into the furnace, this time being so frightfully burned that he died within an hour.
